

DEPARTMENT OF EPIDEMIOLOGY 2019 SPRING SEMINAR

Thursday, February 7

12:00 — 12:55 pm , G23 Public Health Auditorium

Depression Among Midlife Women:
What Do We Know About It?

Joyce T. Bromberger, PhD

Professor Emerita of Epidemiology, Graduate School of Public Health, University of Pittsburgh

Dr. Bromberger conducted research on the mental and physical health of middle-aged women for over 25 years. Her particular focus is on depression and anxiety and the psychosocial and hormonal factors that influence these symptoms/disorders. She served in a leadership role on the longitudinal multisite Study of Women's Health Across the Nation (SWAN) for over 19 years.